

Department of Health Social Work Grand Rounds

COVID 19, Racial Inequity and the Pursuit for a New Normal in Integrated Primary Care

Target Audience

Interprofessional and multidisciplinary health care providers, educators, and students.

By the end of this presentation, the audience participant should be able to:

1. Identify a framework for critical self-assessment in integrated primary care settings that may reveal areas of focus for achieving cultural competence.
2. Describe the importance of dismantling systemic racism in healthcare.
3. Recognize attitudes, values, and behaviors that influence the effectiveness of leadership.

Karen Bullock, PhD, LCSW

Professor and Head of the School of Social Work at North Carolina State University
Steering Committee Member Duke University
Center for Research to Advance Health Equity

Monday,
March 29, 2021
12:00-1:00pm

Location: Zoom Meeting

Join Zoom Meeting:

<https://dellmed-utexas.zoom.us/j/94711056971>

Meeting ID: 947 1105 6971

Dial by your location

+1 213 338 8477 US (Los Angeles)

877 853 5257 US Toll-free

Meeting ID: 947 1105 6971

Find your local number: <https://dellmed-utexas.zoom.us/u/aV19g9odP>

Join by SIP

94711056971@zoomcrc.com

Dell Med Video Portal

<https://dellmed-utexas.zoom.us/>

1.0 Social Work CEUs available free of charge from the Office of Professional Development, Steve Hicks School of Social Work

Registration not required

CONTACT

laura.rushing@austin.utexas.edu